

Carl J. (Cully) Santheson, III

Carl J. (Cully) Santheson, III passed away peacefully at home surrounded by his family on Wednesday, Jan. 18 in Vero Beach, FL.

Cully was born and raised in Duxbury, the only child of Carl J. and Lillian E. Santheson.

He is survived by his loving wife of nearly 51 years Anna (Nancy) Santheson and his children, Carl R. Santheson of Plymouth and Christine E. Santheson of Altamonte Springs, FL; his grandchildren, Tiffany, Julien and Ashleigh; and many close friends and relatives who have been so supportive through this journey. Special thanks to his sister-in-law Eileen Young for her love and support.

As a proud member of the United States Navy, Cully was able to travel to many places and make some very long-lasting friendships. He was a proud veteran who was never shy of expressing his love for his country and for his family.

Upon his discharge from the Navy, he returned to his hometown to help operate and eventually own the family business, Snug Harbor Fish Market, a Duxbury landmark, until 1994.

His dedication to his family and to his family business was relentless.

Cully was a long term member of the Duxbury Board of Cemetery Trustees and a proud member of the local and state political scene. He was always one to listen and to analyze to make the best decisions for his town's needs.

The family sends a special thanks to the Vero Beach, FL medical community and to the services of the Vero Beach Visiting Nurses and Hospice.

Donations can be made in Cully's name to the St. Jude Children's Hospital.

A private family service will be held in his honor at a later date.
